expense+
by Lentune

What is Expense by Lentune?

Expense by Lentune takes the headache out of expense claims. Staff can either capture receipts directly from their phone as they happen or whenever is convenient. Lentune will automatically reconcile them to your bank statement and if it all matches up, submit it and the job is done.

Lentune has invested heavily in its user interface to allow users to view, create and update expense details all from the one screen. Simple well-thought-out software is what we do.

Capture → Submit → Process → Analyse

Key Features

By breaking the expense claim process down into key stages Lentune has been able to streamline the whole process and generate significant time savings for your business. Combining this with the ability to add key compliance controls and Lentune will ultimately help reduce costs within your business.

- Capture expenses via multiple channels with Lentune's phone app or web browser interface. Expenses can be captured directly from your email or just drag and drop scanned images, photos or PDFs directly from your desktop.
- Run your approvals the way you want with Lentune's flexible approval structure.
- With Lentune's dashboard and monthly reporting you can analyse what your business is spending money on and which staff are doing the spending.
- Lentune can process both company credit cards and cash expenses. Users can even run multiple credit card from different banks.
- Eliminate the storage and handling costs associated with paper expense claims. Lentune will electronically store all your claims and receipts for as long as you require. What's more your expenses can now be easily searched, viewed or forwarded whenever they are needed, from anywhere.

Your staff will love the simplicity of capturing expenses via Lentune's smart phone app, eliminating the need to keep bulky receipts.

Managers will find approvals clear and uncomplicated. But most importantly they can review them from anywhere with an internet connection.

Automation is an accounts departments dream, it will save a significant amount of time for your team and they will gain valuable insight into your company's spend through Lentune's monthly analysis.

Why Lentune

Lentune has been developing software for over 20 years. Our products range from our famous wholesaler ERP system, through to our accounts payable automation module. Over the last few years Lentune has identified the needs for smarter automation software, particularly paperless solutions. With this new demand, we have been quickly expanding our portfolio based on our customer's needs and requests. We are always reinvesting in our software and firmly believe development should be driven by our customers' needs.