

Lever Talent Intelligence

Powered by Tableau®

Advanced analytics have never been so approachable.

With Lever Talent Intelligence, you'll quickly unlock insights that elevate the recruiting conversation to improve talent acquisition performance across your organization.

Approachable dashboards for the entire team

Enable every team member to make the most of the data. Talent leaders can answer key strategic questions fast using our pre-built visual dashboards, while data analysts can build next-level reports using Lever Talent Intelligence as the foundation.

Strong dedication to your success

Lever is committed to the success of our customers. With in-house support for our customers, you can feel secure that we are here whenever needed. Whether that means sharing best practices, teaching your team, or quick troubleshooting, the Lever team is on standby to help.

Customizable reports for unique questions

Slice and dice your data any way you choose with our powerful, fully configurable reporting platform. Build custom reports or edit multiple existing dashboards to answer unique recruiting questions that will drive your team forward.

Limitless insight into your strategy

Looking to expand beyond recruiting intel? Combine your Lever data with external analytics from sources such as your HRIS to reveal a wealth of meaningful information. Find out which interviewers best predict employee success, which sources truly lead to the most quality hires, and much more.

Designed with you in mind, Lever Talent Intelligence is built to answer your most pressing strategic questions.

We offer a set of nine pre-built dashboards geared towards driving productive conversations with your entire team:
