

ZyLAB for Corporate Legal Operations

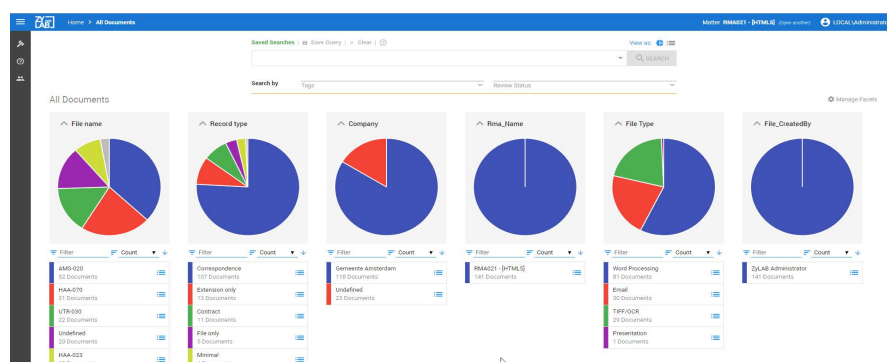

More efficient Legal Operations through better information management

Most organizations today are inundated with data, the volume of which is increasing at an alarming rate. Complex files are a part of everyday work. They make up your business archives, your corporate legal memories, holding knowledge and evidence of commercial and legal activities. Yet, we all know the feeling when you are in desperate need of important information and cannot find it because it was wrongly archived or the system you are depending on does not have the capabilities needed to find it.

ZyLAB ONE software is designed specifically for more efficient Legal Operations and addresses all of the above issues. With ZyLAB ONE, you can store and search any amount of data, institute repeatable processes, implement Business Intelligence, share knowledge and make decisions based on facts and not on assumptions.

Benefits

- Highly optimized and streamlined internal processes
- Easily search, find and share everything
- Decision making based on facts not on assumptions
- Reduce time spent on duplicate work
- Increased collaboration among team member
- User friendly – all you need is a browser and internet connection

All your electronic files in one place: just upload

From outlook email archive (PST, NSF), file shares (ZIP, RAR) or SharePoint folders/sites, every piece of information will be made available and searchable in a 100% browser independent user interface. No plug-ins are required, the only thing you need is an internet connection and you can upload your information.

Automatically organize and classify your data

By managing the content of your data effectively, you can obtain significantly greater value from the documents and content associated with your core business activities and improve the overall efficiency of your legal team. ZyLAB ONE is designed to quickly process any amount of documents and email and automatically analyzes, categorizes, and makes all of the uploaded information searchable in a user-friendly way.

Records are easy to find:

There could be many reasons why people have difficulties finding the right information at the right time without spending too many hours searching. As a result, prior legal work is often repeated and decisions are often based on assumptions rather than facts. ZyLAB One makes it easy to capture, find, and share everything that the department collectively knows.

Complex search and retrieval:

Because dossiers are getting bigger and more complex, the perils organizations face when dealing with complex legal matters is increasing as well. Finding the right information fast is essential to your ability to control costs and mitigate risks. In many cases, 'standard search' is not good enough. ZyLAB One offers you the best legal search in the market used by the world's most demanding users.
