Barkly ProtectIQ™ Multi-Vector Attack Blocking delivers the strongest protection by recognizing the techniques used in today's complex attacks including exploits, malicious scripts and executable malware. Barkly ProtectIQ™ uses a combination of behavior and attribute analysis to recognize these vectors and block attacks at every stage of the attack chain. All of this protection is delivered through Barkly's Rapidvisor® agent, the only endpoint agent with real-time process monitoring down to the CPU-level.

Barkly EvolveIQ™ Continuous Machine Learning automatically converts malware intelligence into powerful protection to keep you a step ahead of the evolving threat landscape through Responsive Machine Learning™ which trains models against new malware samples and organization-specific software profiles nightly. The result is maximum protection against known and unknown threats and minimized false positives for every customer.

Barkly CommandIQ™ Management Portal gives you visibility into your endpoints and protection status anytime and anywhere. Easily receive alerts and respond to incidents from any desktop or mobile device. Learn the who, what, when, and where of every incident with detailed forensics, and confidently take action with one-click response.
