Want to attend?

Unfortunately, we can't help you. We don't have any affiliation with J.P. Morgan — we simply attend every year. In our experience, the best way to get invited to the conference is to build a relationship with J.P. Morgan's investment team.

Ramp Up

Navigate Like a Pro

You're flying through SFO

Can you switch to OAK instead?

YES → Do it! You'll thank us later.

NO → Go ahead and cancel any plans within 8 hours.

You need to book a room

Is it after Thanksgiving?

YES → Set a reminder for February 1, 2017 to book for next year.

NO → You still have time! But don't wait any longer.

Start your hotel search around Union Square.

No luck?

Check out hotels around Fisherman's Wharf.

Still no luck?

Consider an AirBnB within the city.

Even worse luck?

It's time to get out of the city. Start checking out the Berkeley Marina, Marin, Oakland or Emeryville instead.

The worst luck?

You really messed up this time. Your last hope is San Jose Train.

Network Like a Pro

You hear "we're pre-clinical."

Do they have a website?

YES → Ok to proceed.

NO → Run.

In person

On-Demand Meeting Rooms
Breather offers private meeting space (and wifi!) by the hour at locations all over the city - many right around the Westin St. Francis. Think Zipcar for meeting rooms. Breather.com

Conversation Sweet Spots

Pepper in these beloved phrases to break the ice with your new connections.

Scientists: "Methods & protocols"

Investors: "Balance sheets & valuation"

Executives: "Partnering"

Everyone from scientists to investors will be at JPM, but their common role during the conference is to execute deals, partnerships and transactions.

Navigate Like a Pro

- Need to leave the city? Leave by 4 pm to avoid sitting in traffic on the bridge.
- Need a ride? Keep an eye out for cabs, they can sometimes be easier than a rideshare app. Especially when service becomes spotty.
- Taking BART or CalTrain? Remember that it does stop running at a certain point. And doesn't go everywhere!
- Think you'll get a chance to sit? Think again. Wear comfortable shoes - you'll be logging a lot of steps.
- Not sure when you'll get a chance to eat? Winter is coming. Pack energy bars to get you through the day.

Network Like a Pro

- Planning your meetings? Everyone you want to meet will be there, so get focused and prioritize the "need to meets" over the "nice to sees."
- Planning on socializing? RSVP for 20 receptions, but know you'll only make it to 5.
- Is there an invite-only party? Don't be afraid of party crashing. To get into some exclusive parties, all you have to do is drop your business card on the table.
- Get cut off in the Starbucks line? Think twice before you unleash. You never know when you'll run into that person again.
- Are the drinks flowing? Don't get too drunk. Nobody wants to be that person. Make sure you pace yourself, hydrate and eat a full meal before drinking - most parties only serve finger foods and light appetizers.

What's your prediction for #JPM17?

Industry insiders sound off

Looking forward to talking about precision medicine, patient engagement and hopefully more support for life science startups.

Leah Cannon – @leahcanscience
Content Editor, Life Science Network

The concept of strategic bolt-on acquisitions will be highlighted by the announcements of several specific examples.

John Hundley – @KM_Properties
Kidder Mathews, Life Science Practice

Brace yourself for lots of heated talk about whether or not the FDA reforms under the new administration will affect drug and device approvals.

Erik Clausen – @eclausen
Managing Partner, Chempetitive Group

Pharma and biotech stock prices have risen by 5% since the U.S. election, as fears of price restrictions likely to be imposed by a Clinton Administration have diminished. Will this confidence continue?

Ben MacLaughlin – @bakermckenzie
Global Head of Healthcare Group, Baker & McKenzie

I think we're going to see a lot more private funding and fewer IPOs. Biotechs have been raising hundreds of millions of dollars without needing to go public, which shows the current strength of the industry.

Juliet Preston – @juliet_preston
Biotech/Pharma Reporter, MedCity News

I think the number one topic to be discussed at JPM this year is what the President-elect and a Republican Congress will try and do to change the U.S. healthcare system, and how those changes will translate into winners and losers in the sector.

Phil Pfrang – @DeloitteMnA
US Life Sciences & Health Care M&A Transaction Services leader, Deloitte & Touche LLP

Immuno-oncology will dominate the discussion, and be the lead candidate for many portfolios.

Sara Agee Le – @10xgenomics
Director of Marketing Communications, 10X Genomics
