The Project

This specialty retailer of fabrics and crafts wanted to make retail more experiential. They added a Creator's Studio to one of their stores in Columbus, Ohio where people can learn, collaborate, and create. This space needed to be adaptable to accommodate for different types of work.

The Solution

Prefab construction solutions like natural timber framing, a large Leaf folding wall, and double sliding barn doors enable the flexible space to open out into the rest of the store or to become a private, enclosed area for presentations, meetings, classes, and workshops.
