Case Study

Ohio Statehouse

A project over 20 years in the making, the Ohio Statehouse needed new carpet in both the House and Senate chambers. In 1995, we had installed a custom woven carpet designed by a historical/architectural consultant to match what the carpet looked like there in the 1800s.

Results:

With that consultant now out of business, we scoured the globe in search of a manufacturer that could still make this unique carpet, and we found our match in Ireland. The newly updated carpet contains 29 different colors in an intricately patterned design.
