

To us...it's so much more than just a learning space.

Who we are

We know that even the most inspiring educational spaces are only as great as the learning that happens inside of them.

Because great learning spaces only matter if they work.

At Continental Office, we're experts in creating K-12 environments that will inspire future passionate leaders, analytical problem-solvers, and creative go-getters. Today's classrooms have become the third teacher and a critical part of how students learn.

Since 1939, we've created memorable experiences through the delivery of intentional spaces so our clients and partners are inspired to change the way they work, think, and learn.

What we do

We challenge the status quo and strive to change the way you think about learning. With our 75+ years of experience, we deliver:

Furniture

Boost productivity with functional pieces, from desks and seating to collaborative learning spaces and accessories, we have flexible options.

Floors

Complement your facility from the ground up with a wide variety of flooring solutions, from carpet to hard surfaces.

Concrete Finishes

Give your learning space a modern look with concrete polishing or an epoxy coating. Concrete is sought after for its aesthetics and sustainable profile.

Prefab Construction

Create extreme levels of customized, sustainable prefabricated interiors that integrate technology and remain flexible as your needs change.

Branding

Give your students and faculty a memorable, branded experience and ignite school spirit. It's your story to tell – make an impact.

Services

Buying furniture is just the first step. We offer a variety of manufacturer-neutral services to help you throughout your learning lifecycle.

How we do it

We're dedicated and deliberate in every relationship we make. That's why we believe in a three-phase creative process to ensure that we've addressed every detail to deliver the best results, every time. Additionally, everything we do is technology-enabled, which means you have access to your project at the tip of your fingers anytime, anywhere.

Discover

First, we want to know your goals. Our organized, team-based group of creative problem-solvers will come together to create a customized, original plan that will address your workspace challenges.

Design

That same group of trusted industry experts will address those challenges. You'll get a tailored, comprehensive design solution specific to your goals, whether you're planning just for today or tomorrow, too.

Deliver

Action is everything. We push ourselves to explore new possibilities and generate solutions to any problem. And this resourceful approach to how we work allows us to find solutions others can't.
