

Physical Distancing and Space Division with DIRT

DIRTT Partitions: Useful Now. Adaptable for Later.

A DIRT Solution is useful right now, but it also demonstrates long-term value by adapting to your organization. With DIRT, you can continually make adjustments caused by uncontrollable changes, and have the flexible options you need to maximize your investment now and in the future.

In this time of distancing and special COVID-19 job site considerations, we get the job done in fewer days with less people on site.

How We Can Help:

One: Quickly and safely building what you need now with reusable barriers customized to your needs.

Two: By rapidly dividing up large public spaces, and other common areas.

Three: Providing adaptable solutions for the unknown that evolve with health and safety regulations.

Four: Help accommodate and exceed employees' expectations by considering the human experience.
