idX expands décor business, adds capacity with move to Maryland

ST. LOUIS, MO—idX Corporation, the preeminent manufacturer of consumer environments, is expanding its décor capabilities in response to strong growth in the sector.

idX has built out a location within its 435,000 sq ft Columbia, MD, facility, creating a dedicated area for décor and graphics fabrication. The expanded facility will replace the nearby Lorton, VA, building, which is too small to accommodate idX's future plans for the décor segment.

"Office staff, project teams, print production and décor fabrication experts in Lorton will transition to the Columbia facility," said idX CEO Terry Schultz.

The move should be completed in May.
