idX Opens New Seattle Facility

Seattle, WA—idX Corporation, a worldwide leader in retail fixtures, logistics and project management, has opened a new Seattle facility, bringing the company's total U.S. capacity to more than 1.5 million square feet.

The new 300,000-square foot plant, located in River Front Industrial Park in the Seattle suburb of Puyallup, includes state-of-the-art manufacturing, distribution and offices. The division also increased the number of employees from 130 to close to 160, with plans to add another 20 employees during peak seasons.

The new facility replaces five Seattle-area buildings totaling about 230,000 square feet. The largest of the former buildings, a 110,000-square foot facility, was located only eight blocks from idX Seattle's new home. "For our staff, locating near the old facility was important to keep it convenient for their commute," said Seattle General Manager Robert Cox, a 14-year idX veteran.

"Growth has been phenomenal for idX Seattle," Cox added. "This new facility allows us to work more efficiently and handle higher volume projects. The size of the building gives us the flexibility to build a full-scale prototype store within our facility so that our retail clients can 'kick the tires' on new concepts before rolling them out."

Among the clients served by idX Seattle are Federated Department Stores (now Macy's), Bed Bath & Beyond, Microsoft, Eddie Bauer and Gymboree.
