HOW TO / enable pop-ups

If you're trying to load a page that opens in a new window (for example, posting your Piece to Facebook) and nothing is happening, there's a good chance your browser settings are set to block pop-ups! Pop-ups can be anything that open in a new browser window. Sometimes your browser will prompt you to allow the pup up upon clicking on it - but other browsers don't have this feature. Luckily, you can enable them by a single click in your browser settings.

SAFARI

CHROME

FIREFOX

INTERNET EXPLORER

Click Internet Explorer Icon > Tools > Internet Options > Privacy > Uncheck "Turn on Pop-up Blocker"

Some browsers give you more options in the settings - and if you decide that you do want to block pop-ups again, you can simply go back into your settings and change them back!
