Leadership Excellence

A Breakthrough in Performance™

Highly effective leadership is essential for altering the culture and performance of an organization. But even for the most talented people, taking your leadership to the next level requires a fundamental shift in how and what you see in the everyday world of business.

For over 30 years, JMW has been helping the world's most successful business leaders create and realize high-impact outcomes and dramatic shifts in performance. Our leadership programs are specifically designed to equip you to dramatically enhance organizational performance.

A significant return on investment

Participants of our ground-breaking programs report that the impact is immediate and lasting and produces measurable results. An overwhelming number of them cite JMW's programs as the most impactful learning experience of their career. In fact, one major oil company reported an increase in value of $2bn following the roll out of one of our leadership programs.

Leadership Excellence: A Breakthrough in Performance™ is a five-day program designed to dramatically impact your leadership capabilities. The program will dispel the myths around what is at the heart of truly effective leadership and provide access to new levels of self-expression, contribution and fulfillment in your work ... resulting in a significant impact on your performance and that of others.

Who Should Attend

Leadership Excellence: A Breakthrough in Performance™ is designed for senior managers, managers, supervisors and project team leads who are charged with implementing strategy, operational performance or delivering new levels of business results.

Benefits

Participants leave the program with the ability to:

- Target and deliver extraordinary levels of performance
- Make a significant contribution to their organization
- Inspire and mobilize others

Structure and Curriculum

Led by senior JMW consultants, Leadership Excellence: A Breakthrough in Performance™ is a residential program that takes place over five days. JMW will present new models and frameworks for elevating leadership capabilities and delivering extraordinary performance.

“This was by far the most beneficial and insightful training class I’ve ever been to. The things I learned about myself have and will continue to help me grow as a leader.”
