

Did you know that CAMTS provides a dynamic accreditation process?

CAMTS ACCREDITATION

CAMTS (Commission on Accreditation of Medical Transport Systems) is a well-recognized non-profit organization dedicated to improving the quality and safety of medical transport services, with 21 current member organizations each of which sends one representative to the CAMTS Board of Directors.

Agencies with CAMTS Accreditation immediately stand-out for their commitment to organization, high standards and meticulous attention to detail. To achieve and maintain this standard, CAMTS requires detailed record keeping and regular recertification.

Operative IQ is a software as a service company that was founded in 2007. Our operations management software, Operative IQ, is used by hundreds of businesses to manage inventory, purchasing, assets and equipment, vehicle inspections, vehicle maintenance, service desks and controlled substances. Using Operative IQ in your day to day operations can help make this process easier.

Would it be helpful to move away from paper documents and the need to search through file cabinets? Are you interested in tightening up your inventory and asset management? Would you like to streamline narcotics processes and documentation to achieve a higher standard?

Consolidate your operations management records in one place. Operative IQ's user-friendly solution helps you capture and report on your transport maintenance, purchasing and inventory usage, asset condition and location, and complete narcotics chain of custody data in one tool. Our reporting functionality allows you to pull necessary documentation in minutes!

Benefits of using an Operations Management Solution:

- Manage all operation details in one location for quick access during inspection times.
- Keep thorough asset maintenance records and pull reports by asset, date and more.
- Log all fleet maintenance history to report on daily crew vehicle checks, completed scheduled and unscheduled maintenance and repairs.
- Manage inventory and purchasing history for clear budgeting and fiscal responsibility. Ability to pro-actively rotate expiring items for efficient supply usage and reduced waste.
- Document and analyze controlled substance chain of custody capturing detailed transaction history available live or schedule reports with ease for delivery.
