1 Scope

- 1.1 The contractual partner is Robin Data GmbH ("Robin Data" or "we" or "us"), represented by the managing director Prof. Dr. Andre Döring. Customer ("customer" or "you" or "you") is any natural or legal person who is not a consumer within the meaning of § 13 BGB (Bürgerliches Gesetzbuch / German Civil Code). In particular, our services are aimed at natural or legal persons who, in accordance with Art. 2 and Art. 3 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), must implement the statutory data protection requirements or wish to obtain information or further training on this subject.
- 1.2 All contract-relevant information is available digitally on our website <https://www.robin-data.io> ("Website", including all subpages or subdomains), can be requested by e-mail to sales@robin-data.io or is available in excerpts as a printout (e.g. sales brochure).
- 1.3 These General Terms and Conditions shall also apply to subsequent transactions, even if they are not referred to again upon conclusion. Express other agreements on the subject matter of the contract shall take precedence over these General Terms and Conditions.

- 1.4 Robin Data is entitled to subsequently adjust and supplement the General Terms and Conditions in relation to existing business relationships, insofar as changes in legislation or jurisdiction require it or other circumstances result in the contractual equivalence relationship not only being disturbed insignificantly. A subsequent amendment of the terms and conditions shall become effective if you do not object to the amendment within one month of notification. If you object to the notification of change, Robin Data has an extraordinary right of termination with a notice period of one month.

2 Contractual object

- 2.1 The subject matter of the contract results from the General Terms and Conditions, as well as from our most current service descriptions and regulations made in price lists.
- 2.2 Deviating regulations, for example individual offers, require the written form. These then contain a service description and prices per service item.
- 2.3 If we are to assume a guarantee within the framework of a contract, this must be in writing and confirmed by us in writing in order to be effective.
- 2.4 General Terms and Conditions of the customer, e.g. as annex to enquiries, orders, order confirmations, etc., shall only be accepted by Robin Data if they have been explicitly confirmed by us in writing.

3 Services from Robin Data

Robin Data offers services in the areas of data protection and organizational as well as technological information and data security. In these areas, we provide software, consulting, auditing, training, brokerage services, as well as expert opinions and other services. Our services differ in two services classes:

- 3.1.1 Services that are only available online on our servers as Software-as-a-Service ("SaaS Services"), such as our software for implementing data protection ("Robin Data Software") and our online forum for communication on data protection and data security ("Robin Data Community").
- 3.1.2 Offer-based services ("Offer Services"), such as the appointment of a data protection officer, on-premises provision of Robin Data Software, consulting and training services or individually offered consulting services.
- 3.2 The use of our Robin Data Community is free of charge. Robin Data is not responsible for the continued availability of the Community. The customer is not entitled to use the Community. Every user is advised against making business-critical processes dependent on the use of the community.

- 3.3 Robin Data is entitled to subcontract services in whole or in part to qualified subcontractors ("Partners"). This may be the case if a partner can provide the requested service better than we can (e.g. due to technical or industry-specific expertise or geographical proximity) or if we do not have the capacity to provide the service ourselves.

For this purpose, Robin Data has a network of qualified partners ("Partner Network") at its disposal, who provide these services on behalf of Robin Data. Robin Data conducts customer surveys on the services provided by its partners for quality assurance purposes. Services of subcontractors in the area of data protection consulting and appointment of data protection officers are always performed on the basis of Robin Data Software. Robin Data is liable for subcontractors as for its own actions.

- 3.4 Robin Data does not provide any legal advice as a personal service. However, Robin Data allows customers to commission legal opinions from partners through Robin Data within the framework of a contract with a lawyer proposed by Robin Data, which are prepared by authorised third parties and forwarded by Robin Data to the customer. Robin Data does not act as a contractual partner of the legal opinion and does not provide any other services from the scope of application of the German Rechtsdienstleistungsgesetz (RDG).
- 3.5 Our services take into account the current state of the art and the currently applicable legal principles. Relevant court rulings are taken into account to the extent that they can serve as a guideline for the provision of services until they are implemented in a relevant law, depending on their relevance, knowledge and the case in question.
- 3.6 We conduct customer satisfaction surveys to ensure the quality of our partners' services.

4 Brokering of services to our qualified partners

- 4.1 Robin Data is entitled to broker services in whole or in part to qualified partners ("brokerage services"). This may be the case if a partner can provide the requested service better than we can (e.g. due to technical or industry-specific expertise or geographical proximity) or if we do not have the capacity to provide the service ourselves. Our brokerage services enable our customers to order demand-oriented services without having to spend their own search time, if necessary, on the basis of several comparable offers. Brokered services to our partners in the area of data protection consulting and appointment of a data protection officer are always carried out on the basis of Robin Data Software.

- 4.2 If the customer authorizes the placement, Robin Data will put the request out to tender according to the requirements within the partner network. The customer will then usually receive one or more partner offers from Robin Data within 5 working days. For stand services (e.g. the appointment of a data protection officer Basic, Professional M and Professional L), the customer usually receives an offer based on this standard price. In the case of complex services (e.g. performance of a penetration test), the customer usually receives one or more offers.
- 4.3 The customer must release Robin Data's mediation request in writing ("mediation release"). If no placement release is given within 10 working days, Robin Data will reject the request.
- 4.4 If the customer approves the mediation, Robin Data will mediate the request to qualified partners. The customer then usually receives an offer from our partners within 5 working days. Services that are standardized in our service catalog by the scope of services and the price (e.g. the appointment of a data protection officer Basic, Professional M and Professional L), are usually also offered by the partners on the same terms. On the basis of the available offers, the customer decides at his own discretion which partner he chooses.
- 4.5 The customer decides on the acceptance of the offer and commissions the provider directly.
- 4.6 Robin Data is entitled to check the quality of the partner's performance with its customers by means of a customer satisfaction survey.

5 Prerequisites for the use of SaaS services

- 5.1 To order and use our SaaS services, customers must have a computer (e.g. desktop computer, laptop, notebook or tablet) that has a sufficiently fast Internet connection (e.g. a DSL connection).
- 5.2 In principle, it is possible to use our SaaS services via smartphones. However, there are technical limitations in usability, as our offerings are not optimized for the use of smartphones due to the complex but necessary data collection.

6 Conclusion of a contract

- 6.1 The customer can register for the Robin Data Software for a free trial period via our website. The test phase lasts as long as specified during registration, usually seven days. At the end of the test phase at the latest, you will receive a request to initiate the ordering process (e.g. by e-mail or within the Robin Data Software) to choose one of the contract packages as part of the SaaS service.

- 6.2 To conclude a contract for a paid SaaS service, the customer selects one of the displayed SaaS service packages (e.g. Robin Data Software "Basic", 12 months term) on our website or within the protected area of our SaaS software offers (e.g. Robin Data Software). After selecting this package, the customer is requested to enter the company and payment data required for the conclusion of the contract in a web form. By the confirmation of the terms and conditions and the data protection explanation and the following press on the button "buy now" the contract of the customer with us to the selected conditions comes into existing. The customer receives a written confirmation of the conclusion of the contract by e-mail and can view his contract and invoice information within the respective SaaS solution.
- 6.3 In the case of an Offer Service, the offer made by Robin Data merely represents an invitation to submit an offer and does not constitute a legally binding offer of its own. If the customer confirms to us in writing on the basis of the present offer that he wishes to initiate an order at the offer conditions ("order placement"), this shall constitute the customer's offer. Upon receipt of the order by us, the contract between the customer and Robin Data shall come into existence as soon as Robin Data confirms the order to the customer in writing under the agreed conditions ("order confirmation").
- 6.4 If no complete agreement has yet been reached on parts of the order, the customer may request Robin Data to start with already negotiated parts of the services even before the order confirmation. In this case, Robin Data shall be entitled to the remuneration already negotiated for the services at the time of the request.
- 6.5 All Robin Data offers are valid for 30 calendar days. Any expressly deviating provisions shall only apply if they are noted in the offer.
- 6.6 Performance dates and periods defined in contracts shall only be binding if Robin Data has confirmed them in writing.

7 Tasks and duties of the customer

- 7.1 In the case of SaaS services, the following tasks and obligations apply to the customer:
- 7.1.1 When registering for our SaaS services (such as the Robin Data Software or the Robin Data Community), customers must expressly accept the applicable Terms and Conditions and the applicable Privacy Policy.
- 7.1.2 When the contract is concluded, this confirmation must be carried out again in accordance with the then valid general terms and conditions and data protection conditions.
- 7.1.3 When using the Robin Data Software, the customer receives a data protection management system preconfigured in parts and on the basis of templates based on industry characteristics and other attributes. This pre-configured system is generated on the basis of defined algorithms to the best of our knowledge and belief and accuracy is constantly improved. Please note that legal advice or auditing is not part of our Robin Data software. The customer must check all the templates provided by the Robin Data Software himself or have them checked by an expert, frequently adapt them to a few places (e.g. supplementing information on the organisation) and release them.

The documents and reports generated on the basis of these templates will not be checked for completeness and correctness without explicit assignment, which can be booked at a charge. The resulting success, e.g. in the sense of legal security, is expressly not owed and cannot be guaranteed, since the customer is responsible for the documents produced within the meaning of the data protection laws pursuant to Art. 4 Para. 7 GDPR.

- 7.1.4 If the Customer uses the SaaS services to hereby document the data protection and IT security management of his own customers, he is obliged, upon termination of the SaaS contract, to provide Robin Data with non-personal contact data of the customers managed by him on the platform and further agrees that Robin Data will contact these customers once to make an offer for further use of the platform by this customer directly.

- 7.2.2 The customer provides a qualified member of staff (e.g. project manager, data protection coordinator) during the entire performance period.
- 7.2.3 If Robin Data employees or partners are required to perform services on site at the customer's premises, the customer shall provide them with adequate work space and the necessary equipment to fulfil the order.
- 7.2.4 If the customer fails to perform his duties and obligations, any delays shall not be culpably attributable to Robin Data and any additional costs shall be borne by the customer.
- 7.2.5 In the sense of the independent guarantee promise, the customer guarantees that he will not infringe any rights of third parties (e.g. copyright or trademark rights) in the provision of material for the performance of services by Robin Data. Robin Data and its vicarious agents shall be indemnified against all claims by third parties which arise culpably as a result of the customer's negligence.
- 7.3 The customer undertakes to document any defects in our SaaS or Offer Services as comprehensibly as possible, describing the defects, their effects or perceived defects, and to submit these records in writing to support@robin-data.io.

8 Right of use

- 8.1 For Robin Data Software, the right of use applies as long as the contract between the customer and Robin Data has existed. After expiration of the contract, the right of use also expires. The customer has the possibility to request a copy of his data in a digital format.
- 8.2 The customer can use the Robin Data Community as long as he keeps his account there or Robin Data stops this service. The right to a digital deduction of his non-personal data does not exist in either case.
