

PRUDENTIAL SUREPATHSM CURRENT RATES

Effective Date: 3/15/2020

The Prudential SurePath Fixed Indexed Annuity is a single premium, long-term contract designed to help you secure your financial future. In return for your premium payment, you receive certain benefits. SurePath is designed to protect you from loss. It also gives you the opportunity to grow your account value without exposure to the unpredictable ups and downs of the stock market.* Your money can grow by earning interest based on the performance of a stock market index, such as the S&P 500[®], but it is not invested in the stock market or specifically in the indexes allocated. You can choose a combination of indicies and terms, each with a cap rate OR a participation rate, as available.

We are issuing this rate sheet to provide the initial cap rates and participation rates for each index-based strategy term and the interest rate percentage for the fixed rate strategy that we are currently offering on the SurePath Fixed Indexed Annuity. These rates are set by Prudential Annuities and are current as of the effective date listed above. Renewal rates may be different than those listed below. Rates are subject to change at any time. For the latest rates, please visit www.prudential.com/surepath-rates.

For complete information about the annuity, please refer to the Important Information Disclosure Statement and product brochure which are available from your financial professional.
