

Introducing IRiS

The cloud Information Management Platform that enables you acquire, integrate and deliver data simply, robustly, and fast.

Powering insights that can help you streamline, grow and adapt your business faster, by removing the friction involved in leveraging new data and managing change legacy.

To meet the demands of all users...

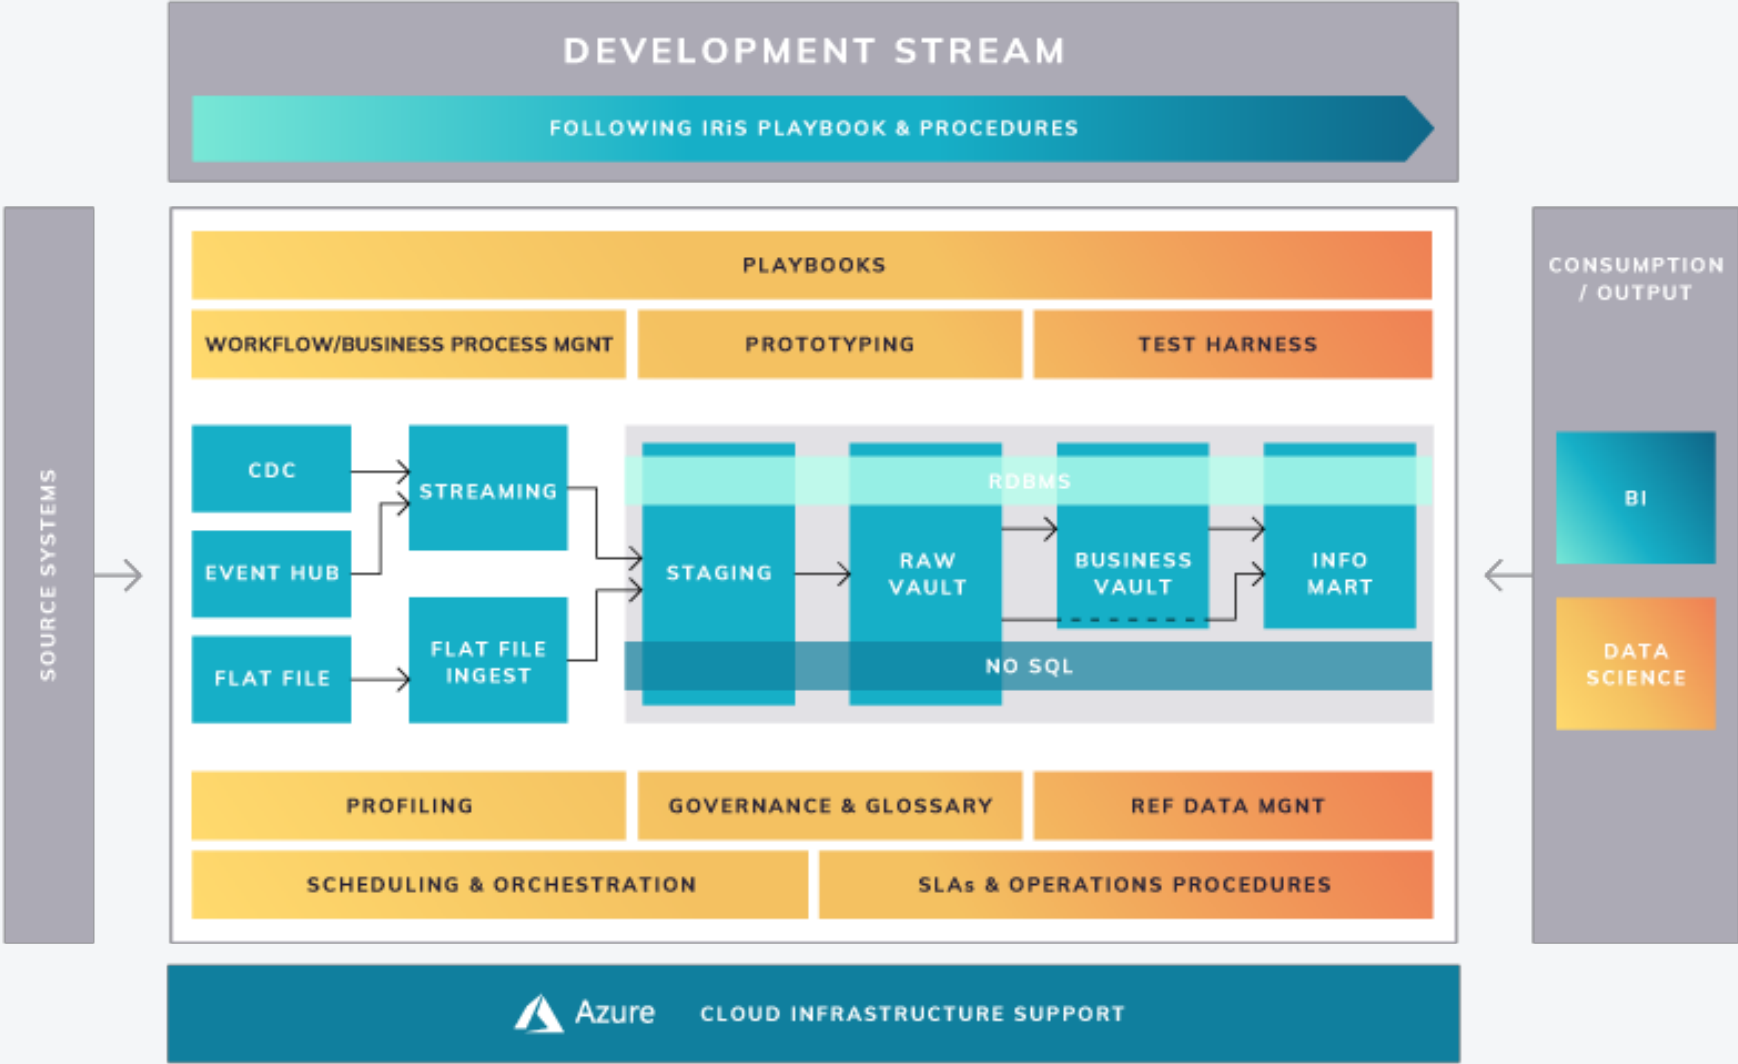

Information Management Platforms now need to deliver a wider set of capabilities including:

- Flexibility
- Automation
- Scalability
- Traceability
- Robustness

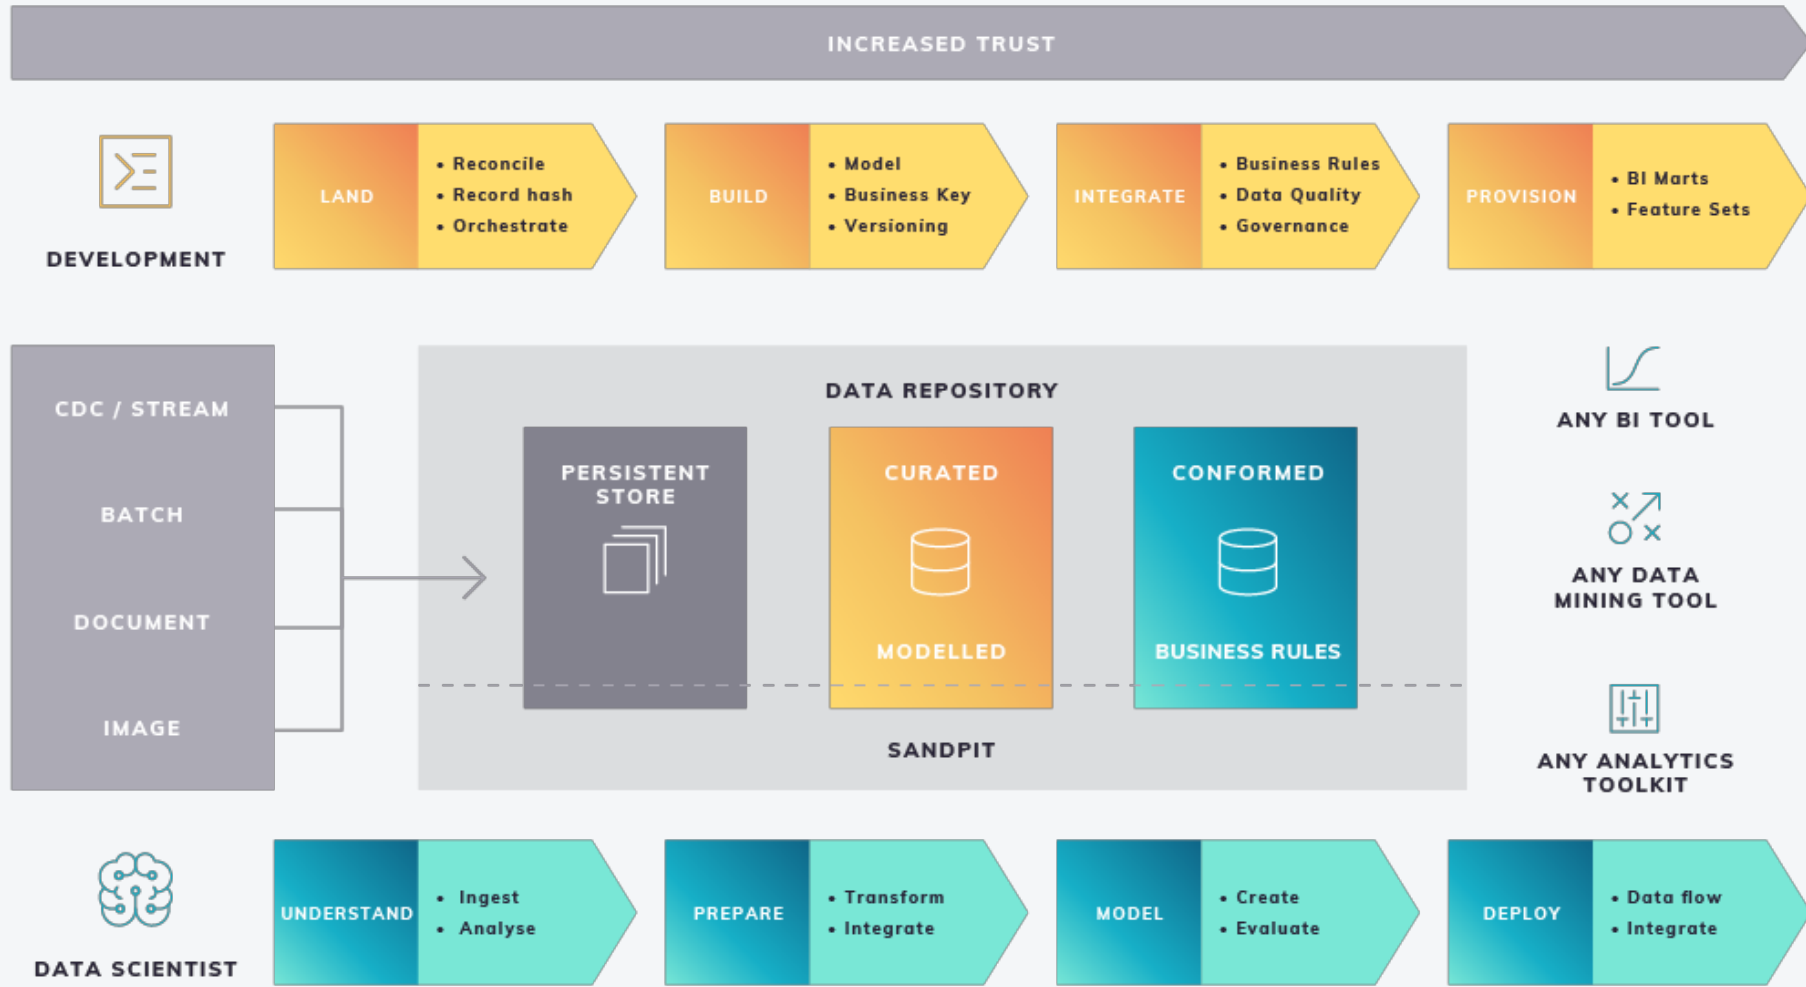

IRiS is here to radically reduce the time it takes to bring your information into focus - from practically any combination of data sources or structure – and maintain that focus over time.

With absolute traceability to source, and the application of business rules to promote self-serve BI and analytics, insights can be generated with an enterprise or business unit lens, all from the same base data.

IRiS Platform Overview

IRiS: Data & Process Flow
