TASTE/SCENT

EARTHY NUTTY SWEET SKUNKY

DESCRIPTION

Chocolate OG is a tasty, Indica bred by Stoked Steve through crossing Chocolate Thai x SFVOG. This strain boasts a nutty, dark chocolate flavor accentuated by slight notes of espresso. Its Kush heavy lineage lends itself to strong relaxing qualities that get heavier with continued consumption and moderate cerebral effects. Patients who have had success with potent indica strains may find great results in Cultivate's Chocolate OG.

PARENT #1: Chocolate Thai

Sativa

Breeder: Unknown

Lineage: Landrace

A legendary landrace strain from Thailand, Chocolate Thai first made an appearance in the U.S. sometime in the 1960s as "Thai sticks," spindly flowers tied to a bamboo stick that were renowned for their potent high. These buds are slender and airy, medium-to-dark brown in color, and possessing a unique chocolate-coffee aroma. Due to the fact that it was a long-flowering, low-yielding sativa strain that always produced male flowers and seeds and was incredibly difficult to clone and grow, it is most likely that Chocolate Thai no longer exists in its original form.

PARENT #2: SFV OG

Indica-Dominant Hybrid

Breeder: Unknown

Lineage: OG Kush

As the name indicates, this OG Kush relative originates from California's San Fernando Valley. The pine and lemon earthiness that SFV exudes can be a bit harsh and bitter if smoked, so this strain is one to save for the vaporizer if consuming directly. Its body effects take a little longer to feel than the initial head haziness, but once they do, everything will feel fine.
