

Chainvu moves into North America's Largest Scaleup Hub to Expand Operations

Chainvu joins OneEleven, a community of high performing technology scaleups in Toronto's downtown core

TORONTO, ON (April 22, 2019) Chainvu Inc. is a Toronto based start-up providing the logistics industry with continuous, live monitoring of location, integrity, safety, and quality of product shipments. Today, the company announced its recent move into the OneEleven scale-up accelerator in downtown Toronto.

OneEleven is at the forefront of start-up innovation in Canada, and Chainvu looks forward to being part of the OneEleven community. "We feel privileged in joining this community" says Bob Burrows, Founder and CEO. "Chainvu is rapidly expanding its business and development team. We have been successful in attracting top software talent and now, being at OneEleven puts us in the heart of the city for more rapid scale-up and partnerships within the downtown community. We are already seeing much higher engagement with prospective employees from being here and have doubled our staff since moving here."

Siri Agrell, the Managing Director at One Eleven says "At OneEleven, we are focused on supporting companies that are introducing important new solutions to big global challenges. With their brilliant and transformative technology and impressive team, Chainvu is an exciting addition to our community and the landscape of game-changing technology being developed in the Toronto ecosystem."

Chainvu is now ramping up for trials in the US.
