

Free Registered Professional Development

FOR NSW TEACHERS

The Office of the Advocate for Children and Young People is inviting teachers to attend a free Registered Professional Development session on child rights.

This session covers:

- How children's rights translate into every day teaching practice
- Improving student engagement, participation and wellbeing
- How to see everyday situations with a child rights lens and approach
- The history of the child rights movement
- The major rights embedded in the United Nations Convention on The Rights of the Child
- Methodologies of face-to-face consultations and polling.

This free five hour session takes place in the Sydney CBD.

Register your interest to attend future sessions via the link below:

www.acyp.nsw.gov.au/schools

Completing Child Rights Training will contribute 5 hours of NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA) Registered PD addressing 6.2.2, 7.1.2 from the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers towards maintaining Proficient Teacher Accreditation in NSW.