

Integration Platform as a Service (iPaaS)

Organizations with multiple, integrated applications, such as SAP SuccessFactors, must typically use an underlying middleware platform for creating and hosting those integrations. Popular choices include Dell Boomi AtomSphere® and SAP Cloud Platform (formerly known as SAP HANA Cloud Integration, or HCI). Both these technologies have upfront license fees and recurring maintenance fees. These types of platforms also usually require that the organization invest in the resources to develop the integrations. The costs rapidly add up.

3D Results recognizes that not every organization wants to develop in-house integration expertise or license a platform for this purpose. Yet, integrations are a necessary part of today's hybrid application environments.

This one-stop solution reduces the complexity of managing a hybrid SAP SuccessFactors environment.

Our Service

In response, 3D Results has developed a subscription-based iPaaS offering that simplifies the entire process of building, hosting, and monitoring integrations. Plus, there are no upfront licensing fees.

3D Results' iPaaS is built on Microsoft Azure Biztalk Cloud and it includes an SAP SuccessFactors connector to facilitate the development of integrations. The subscription also includes additional services not available from the traditional iPaaS vendors, such as:

- No-cost implementation of integrations by 3D Results iPaaS partners, GIS, HireVue, ADP WOTC and many more
- Reduced time and cost for the development of integrations for known vendor applications (4 to 6 weeks) and new vendor applications (6-10 weeks) when compared with other iPaaS vendors
- Code revisions resulting from SAP SuccessFactors quarterly updates
- Code revisions resulting from third-party vendor system maintenance updates
- Basic monitoring of processes and issue resolution
- The ability to purchase additional support/consulting hours at a discounted rate

3D Results iPaaS offers organizations the opportunity to purchase an integration platform and services at a fixed monthly rate, while avoiding the initial investment and ongoing maintenance and development fees associated with other iPaaS vendors. This one-stop solution reduces the complexity of managing a hybrid SAP SuccessFactors environment.
