Club Golf Costs

Golf can be an expensive sport between the cost of golf clubs, high greens fees or memberships. The NCCGA and Nextgengolf strive to make golf as affordable for teams to participate as possible. Here are the expenses a club team can expect each semester.

Basic NCCGA Expenses

These are expenses every club team must pay to participate. Money is due 10 days before the tournament, and teams only pay if they plan to play. This is the bare minimum a club should budget to spend.

- Team Dues: Once per semester
  - $400 (new teams pay only $150)
- Tournament #1 Fees
  - $70-$115 per player
- Tournament #2 Fees
  - $70-$115 per player

Continued

The previous page listed all of the core costs to compete in the NCCGA. The following costs are outside of the NCCGA, and are dependent upon several factors. Some of these factors include locations of the regional tournaments, type of hotel, desires of the team, qualifying for Nationals, etc. None of these are required but can be expected:

- Travel: Varies on tournament location
  - Gas: $50
  - Hotel: $100 per night
- Team Gear
  - Polos: Up to $19-$30 per player
  - Hats: $16-$21 per players
  - Team bags: $120 per player
- Practice expenses
  - Course greens fees or memberships: Varies depending on course
- Nationals
  - ~$400 per player

Member Dues and school funding

---

Member Dues

The large majority of club golf teams charge each member dues to join. This can range from $25 to $250. Typically it depends on the budget, how many members, and what it includes (some teams include a t-shirt or polo with dues). Additional expenses can then be paid out of pocket by tournament players

School Funding

- Many clubs are able to receive funding through their school club sports, rec sports, or student organization departments. This often requires an application and submitting a budget. It's important to apply early and submit on time. Don't miss out, as this is the easiest way to pay expenses!

Fundraising and Sponsorship

Fundraising

Fundraising can be an incredibly successful avenue for club teams to subsidize costs. Your team can get creative and ideas can be endless, but common fundraising approaches include:

- Profit-sharing with local restaurant
- Cleaning stadiums after sports events
- Letter-writing campaign
- Nextgengolf Fundraising Platform

Once you decide on a strategy, ask us for help coordinating and organizing the event!

Sponsorship

Local businesses are always looking to gain exposure, and help out students. Pitch your club to businesses near campus and offer them a spot on your polo, bag, website, etc.

Our apparel and equipment partners can help apply their company logo to your gear. Ask us for details on pitching your club to local businesses!
