

The Real Cost of Delays During Entitlement

If you're going to avoid project delays, you need to control the conversation.

The best way to do that?

Engage with the community online.

Stick to the budget (and timeline) by reaching silent supporters.

How do I do that?

Engage with the online community

More input?

Don't fear!
Online feedback is representative of the whole community, not just meeting attendees

Why should I?

You could save as much as $250,000
