Recognition Functional Area

The Recognition Functional Area defines Conferral of Awards to People.

Conferral

A Conferral is an Award conferred to a Recipient for something. Often, an award is conferred for a body of work. The body of work may be represented by another entity in a system, such as an Asset or an Assessment may be related using an Id. The recipients are the Resource to whom the award is addressed is often the producer or creator of the work. In some instances, the Resource and the reference may be one and the same.
