

Meriwether Cider Co - Job Posting

Meriwether Cider has an opening for a full-time position. We would love to hire someone with winery experience who knows what it means to provide great hospitality. We would like someone who is a self-starter, eager to learn, good at communicating, and attentive to detail. Besides serving cider, there are other duties integral to the company (such as managing events or charitable giving) that will depend on the strengths of the applicant. We would love someone who has ideas for making the company better and who can contribute solutions to any issues that arise. We are looking for someone willing to make a long term commitment to help Meriwether thrive and grow.

Pay: Living wage salary plus tips with healthcare and retirement benefits.
