Discretionary wealth manager, London & Capital, has teamed up with the Alexander Beard Group to make London & Capital's suite of managed portfolios - ten actively managed and risk-graded growth portfolios, and three income portfolios – available on the Skandia platform.

London & Capital co-founder and head of adviser solutions, Richard Leigh, commented: "We are delighted to have reached this arrangement with Alexander Beard Group PLC and Skandia whereby our portfolios can be accessed on the Skandia platform. So far, 2013 has been a fantastic year for the portfolios in terms of performance and uptake from advisers. Skandia is one of the most popular platforms in the market and we hope that this arrangement is the first of many with leading advisers from across the UK on the platform."

Instrumental in forging this arrangement was Paul Beard, founder and executive chairman of IFA firm Alexander Beard Group PLC, who first approached Skandia to include London & Capital's portfolios on their platforms. He said: "I am delighted that Skandia have made London & Capital's ten growth and three income portfolios available on their platform – this provides a 'best of both' situation where our Group can access Skandia's platform excellence along with London & Capital's leading DFM offering. The portfolios offer market-leading fees and an excellent performance track record. This development also helps complete Alexander Beard Group's desired fund management objectives for its post RDR client proposition."
