YOU GOUDA BRIE KIDDING ME

At Dan the Man, we believe there is an inextricable link between the way produce is cultivated and treated, and the way it tastes on your plate. As such, we endeavour to source our produce locally, from farmers who raise their livestock on pastures, and minimise their use of chemicals and pesticides.

We're also on a mission to be the first event catering company in Australia to create zero waste events.

SAY CHEESE

These days, if it isn't on instagram, it doesn't count. Well, that's not the case with our stunning feature table. Our grazings are so good they need their own instagram account. Spread out on the surface of your choosing, your guests have 360 degree access to artisanal cheese, house made focaccia and damn good chocolate. Decor you could eat and compostable serveware that eases the conscience – what's not to love? An absolute show stopper and crowd favourite.
