

BOSCH

Invented for life

Making professional video surveillance easy for everyone

Always a suitable solution with the DIVAR hybrid and network recorders

At Bosch, we believe that video surveillance solutions should be as easy to install as they are to use. It's the thinking behind our completely new portfolio of DIVAR hybrid and network recording solutions. Specifically designed for 24/7 operation, they offer the ability to create video surveillance solutions with professional security features. Solutions that can be tailored to fit the growing needs of small and medium businesses.

Hybrid solutions

- ▶ DIVAR hybrid 3000 and 5000 models
- ▶ Combination of analog and IP cameras
- ▶ Simple interface for ease of use
- ▶ Standard 16 analog channels with up to 32 digital channels
- ▶ For analog video surveillance solutions that need to upgrade to IP

Network solutions

- ▶ DIVAR network 2000, 3000 and 5000 models
- ▶ For IP video surveillance solution
- ▶ Simple interface for ease of use
- ▶ Easy to install, thanks to built-in Power over Ethernet (PoE) switch
- ▶ Easy to scale up

Easy monitoring and configuration

With DIVAR recorders it's easy to watch live footage, playback recorded content, or reconfigure local unit settings anytime from anywhere. This can be done via the DIVAR Viewer app, available on smartphones (iOS and Android), and via the web browser.

The direct monitor output is ideal for desktop models that are often positioned on a counter. The monitor can be placed on or beside the device, giving the business owner an overview of live images from all connected cameras. With DIVAR hybrid models, it is also possible to connect an additional confrontation monitor. The DIVAR hybrid 5000 and DIVAR network 5000 are both designed to be easily mounted in a 19" rack.

Quality and reliability

For more than 125 years, the Bosch name has stood for quality and reliability. To guarantee complete peace of mind, the DIVAR portfolio is covered by a full 3-year warranty, including hard disks. Like all our products, DIVAR solutions are designed to cover every safety and security need. Products that make sense of the life you lead and the work you do – they are literally 'Invented for Life'.
