The Ultimate Paid Search Glossary

This search marketing glossary has clear definitions of all the key concepts you need to know for a career in paid search.

Ad Rank

The position of a pay-per-click (PPC) ad on a search engine results page (SERP). The position of this ad depends on the position of each keyword included in the ad, which is determined by your bid for that keyword or ad group multiplied by the matched keyword's Quality Score.

Audiences

A particular group of users/consumers within a predetermined target market, identified as the targets or recipients of certain advertisements. Used frequently in paid search to target consumers in a cost efficient way and drive positive ROAS.

BBM

Stands for

Broad Match Modifier

A match type that is a relatively new entrant and lies in between broad and phrase match. It gives more control than broad match and more freedom than phrase match. It works by adding a '+' sign in front of words in a keyword phrase when the match type is selected as broad, which means that the word with a '+' in front of it has to match or be a close variant of a user's search query.

Brand Conquesting

A means to deploy ads for an advertiser's products or services close to the content relating to the competitor or the competitor's products.

Brand Bidding

When an advertiser bids on, and therefore appears on, their competitors' brand terms. This tends to be applied by small/new brands wanting to raise awareness of their products or services through the authority of a more mature brand. Also used by established brands trying to gain cheaper traffic than through generic keyword bidding.

Brand Terms

When the search term is or contains the name of a brand.

Brand Protection

Adthens's Brand Protection solution helps you protect your brand equity and Return on Ad Spend from competitor brand bidding and infringements.
