

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

contact: info@gograyleaf.com

phone: 800-393-8517

Gray Leaf Technology Consultants announces strategic partnership with CACI International Inc.

The strategic partnership with CACI will assist in providing technology expertise to the recently awarded multi-billion dollar contract with the United States government and the Intelligence Community.

Martinsburg, WV. (Jan 1, 2020) – Gray Leaf Technology Consultants and CACI International Inc. announce a strategic partnership that will assist in providing technology expertise to the United States government. The partnership comes on the heels of a multi-year, multi-billion contract that was awarded to CACI to provide specialized technology services to multiple agencies within the Intelligence Community.

“This partnership with CACI is the pairing of two great companies and will enable Gray Leaf to share our expertise in the area of technology, cybersecurity, Microsoft Office 365, SharePoint, web and application development, engineering, and Agile project management,” says Chief Executive Officer and founder John Laub. “This long-term partnership is the first of many steps we’re taking to provide our trusted partners and clients with the expert knowledge in many areas of information technology. Our approach to software development using an Agile mindset aligns perfectly with CACI and makes this partnership a great move for both companies,” continued Laub.

Gray Leaf is a business consulting and technology solutions firm serving federal, state, and local organizations. Gray Leaf is very familiar with the inner workings and unique challenges of government small, medium, and large commercial businesses and non-profits to develop solutions that fit. As an Agile development and solutions firm that specializes in customer-driven cloud business solutions, we pride ourselves on delivering top of the line customized products and solutions that streamline processes, making businesses smarter, automated, and more efficient – saving your organization time and money.

For more information on the consulting and technology services Gray Leaf provides, please visit gograyleaf.com

###