

Childhood Cancer

Most childhood cancers fall into one of several specific types, as listed below. Childhood cancers tend to be more aggressive than adult cancers.

Childhood cancers are rare, and only specially-trained doctors have the knowledge and experience to properly treat them. In fact, your child needs to be treated by a multidisciplinary team of pediatric oncology physicians and specialists. The team includes the primary care physician, pediatric surgical sub-specialists, radiation oncologists, pediatric medical oncologists/hematologists, rehabilitation specialists, pediatric nurse specialists, social workers, and others. This approach ensures that your child will receive the treatment, supportive care, and rehabilitation therapies that will give him or her, the best chance at not only survival, but a good quality of life.

List of Types of Childhood Cancer:

- Bone Cancers (Osteosarcoma)
- Brain Cancers (and Brain Stem Tumors)
- Leukemia
- Hepatoblastoma (Liver Cancer)
- Lymphoma (Hodgkin's and Non-Hodgkin's)
- Neuroblastoma
- Rhabdomyosarcoma
- Retinoblastoma
- Rhabdoid Tumors
- Sarcoma
- Spinal Cord Tumors
- Wilms Tumor (Kidney Tumors)

About Braxton

Braxton (aka Brax) was diagnosed with B-Cell Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia (B-Cell ALL) in January of 2019. She is currently in remission with an end of chemo date for May 28, 2021. After seeing first hand (75+ nights spent on Floor 5) how critical of a role Child Family Life play in both the mental and physical recovery of cancer patients, Brax felt a strong desire to help others going through the same fight. www.braxtonbattaglia.com for more on Brax's story and journey.

The Mission

Team Brax 1 Fund (TB1F) mission is to positively affect every child and family who comes through the University of Minnesota Masonic Children's Hospital. Whether that be financial support in areas of basic need, positive outreach through social functions, Brax's exclusive 5th Floor T-shirt for all cancer patients and by helping Kyle Rudolph's End Zone, the Zucker Family Suite and Broadcast Studio, and the "Row The Boat" Fleck Family Fund with their incredible programming for both patients and families, TB1F and Brax want to make everyone's experience and recovery as positive as it can be.
