SPEngage works harmoniously with all of your other software applications and systems.

As a flexible software platform with an API connector, SPEngage can sync with nearly any software you use, meaning you don't ever have to leave SmartSimple's ecosystem. At the moment, our marketplace has 35+ apps and is always growing. If we don't currently connect with software you're using, just reach out to our Support team to get the ball rolling on an integration.

Seamlessly exchange data between your service providers and other stakeholders with 100% confidence.

All of your internal and external stakeholders access the same data set in SPEngage, so you'll avoid messy data exchanges and duplicated information across your software and systems. You're in full control over what data each of your stakeholders can access and share by setting permissions for every role – be it your administrative and executive staff, board, service providers, or any others.

No ongoing maintenance and support costs.

With a responsive Support team based in North America and Europe, we're able to offer all SPEngage clients access to live support 24 hours a day, 5 days a week at no additional fee. Ongoing maintenance comes included with the monthly subscription fees, so there are no additional costs you'll need to worry about.

Built-in government-grade security to protect your data.

We've built out our security profile robust enough to comply with the Department of Defense and the US Treasury's data protection needs. These security features are built natively into our platform, meaning they come standard for all of our clients without any additional ongoing maintenance costs.
