Candidates view stackable credentials and required program competencies, as well as their future earnings potential. Through assessments, candidates evaluate their fit to a range of apprentice programs. Taking the next step to connect to an employer or program sponsor is one click away.

Workflow Management

The Apprentice Hub builds a digital participant portfolio that is updated and managed throughout the program life-cycle by employers, training providers, participants, and program sponsors. Whether competency, skill, or time-based, the system allows for tracking of data in real-time through intuitive and highly informative dashboards. Data security is paramount - all users have specific permissions that manage data access.

Program Evaluation and Reporting

The Apprentice Hub centralizes and tracks data throughout the program life-cycle, enabling near real-time program evaluation and reporting . Dashboards show at-a-glance statistics and information about participant progress, program performance, and employer and training provider participation. Program sponsors can see aggregate data visualizations and trends across participating programs. Reports can be scheduled and exported for program sponsors, funders, and other authorized stakeholders.

Configuration and Scaling

Sponsors can securely upload and manage employee, training, and program data, or access data directly from existing solutions such as HRIS, LMS, and other systems. New programs can be created and new employers onboarded at any time. The Apprentice Hub is designed to fit within your existing processes and tools to reduce the errors and valuable staff time that comes with fragmented technology, redundant processes, and labor-intensive data gathering processes.
