Danielle Robertson

Director, Danielle Robertson Consulting

Danielle was CEO of DIAL-AN-ANGEL® for 12 years, Australia's only national group specialising in home and family care and support services for all types of care. She has also partnered with financial planners, associations, insurers and clients around care provision, estate planning and disability insurance. DIAL-AN-ANGEL was sold in 2014 and since then Danielle has been running her own consulting business. She is also a medico legal expert witness in the Supreme, District and Family Courts.

Presenting:

The provision of care: It's not just about the aged

Examine the different types of care your clients may need to make decisions around, from in-home care, residential care and the NDIS. This session will delve into each of these different types of care, and explore how to choose and access the most appropriate care in each situation. This includes key strategies to fund a client's care needs.
