

January 6, 2020

Safety & Employment Health, and Environmental Policy at Nano Dimension

- NanoDimension sees itself as committed to cultivating a safety, health and environmental policy in order to maintain the of the environment and the safety and health of its employees.
- The Company is committed to fulfill and uphold the adaptation duties and other requirements that apply to it, while maintaining contact with interested parties on issues of safety, health, and environmental.
- The Company will allocate the necessary resources to prevent safety incidents, environmental pollution and the waste of natural resources in order to improve environmental and safety performance.
- The Company will integrate and assimilate the requirements of employment safety and health management system standard ISO 45001:2018 and environmental management standard ISO 14001:2015 among the Company's employees.
- The Company will strive for excellence and constant improvement by conducting investigations, deriving conclusions, and taking correction action, while ensuring access to and availability of information to all employees.
- The Company will adopt an approach of initiated prevention to minimize risk factors and environmental pollution, and will deal with safety, health, resource waste and environmental hazards while setting objectives and targets that encourage the maintenance of safety and environmental.
- The Company will allocate the necessary resources and means to ensure control in areas of safety, health and environmental in accordance with risk surveys, safety programs, and environmental impact surveys, by analyzing the reasons for deviations and taking corrective actions to reduce them to acceptable risk levels.
- The Company's employees are the key to success, and as part of this, the Company will act to train manpower and expand its professionalism and awareness of safety, health and environmental issues.

Company CEO