Desmon S.p.A was founded in 1994 by the family De Santis as a food equipment trading company.

In 1998 the company took over a local manufacturing company and started production of refrigeration equipment. After a few successful years the company became one of the leaders in the European market of professional refrigeration and now embarking on the North American Markets. In 2015 Desmon joined the Middleby Corporation.

100% of the production of professional refrigeration equipment is concentrated in the main factories in Italy.
