

Technical Business Analyst

Prodo is a leading digital agency based near the historic city of Chester. We help ambitious organisations grow with digital. To join our team, we ask you share the core value we live day to day: Have fun! Do good, stay curious, get stuff done and genuinely care!

Your top 10 skills are the ability to...

1. Work alongside clients developing new software on both large and repeatable projects
2. Understand business and technical requirements for product delivery
3. Gather requirements with clients, suggest ideas and add value to their businesses
4. Create clear and actionable user stories, with success criteria
5. Build, manage, shape and size product backlogs
6. Work with an engineering team elaborating technical information
7. Lead and facilitate agile meetings such as planning, shaping and retrospectives
8. Be a subject matter expert, identifying critical technical tasks and risks early in a project
9. Assist in operational rollout and support, including testing
10. Work across multiple projects at varying points of the software development lifecycle

You'll be responsible for

- Communicating with internal teams and clients; understand the needs of both business
- Working with clients to facilitate discovery workshops, building requirements backlogs
- Identifying opportunities to upsell with clients
- Energising and growing an agile environment (SCRUM / Kanban)
- Defining requirements with clients
- Scoping & documenting system integrations
- Contributing to solution architecture
- Contributing to technical support & troubleshooting
- Travelling to clients throughout the UK

Salary	Up to £45,000
Package	Private Healthcare cover 23 days annual leave + your plus birthday off! Flexible start & finish times
Reporting to	Head of Projects and Development
Location	Chester and Liverpool. Travel to client sites

Please send your CV up to 2 pages and tell us a little about yourself at recruitment@prodo.com