A close-up photograph of a hand holding a small, clear glass perfume bottle with a gold-colored cap. The background is dark and out of focus, suggesting a laboratory or workshop setting. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the hand and the glass of the bottle.

Viveur is privileged to work with one of the most rare classes of expertise, an independent Master Perfumer.

“Master Perfumers make it their personal quest to develop a fragrance creation which is beautiful and harmonic: almost as part of a personal mission.

In this way perfumers become true ambassadors of the world: representing the hundreds of people who have painstakingly cultivated fields, gathered thousands of flowers and plants to extract into absolutes or distil into precious essential oils for perfume is a labour of love which expresses the very essence of civilization.

When one makes this consideration, the philosophy behind fine fragrance creation grows increasingly more important, for a bottle of perfume is a precious, living and expressive medium that contains the world.”
