Robert Cross - Tarmac
Kevan Walton – Kevan Walton Associates Ltd
Tom Felix – Burlington Stone
Kevin Clarke – Aggregate Industries
Steve Joel – Cemex
Tom Wright – Aggregate Industries

We now have a good mix of committee members from the majors & independents which I think has had a positive affect the in numbers attending our technical evenings. January’s technical evening was no exception with over 40 attendees & our CPD day in February has already sold out

Technical Evening

January’s technical evening was well attended with a very informative presentation by Professor Phil Haygarth from Lancaster University on implications to water quality. Pollution of sediment, nitrogen and phosphorus is a key pressure on water quality and ecological health in many rivers in the UK & it was interesting to understand the mechanisms & timescales that allow sediment and nutrients to leave the landscape and enter into rivers & mitigation features, such as runoff management or storage areas, that when connected together to create a more effective treatment system

CPD Day

February’s branch CPD day on geotechnical awareness has sold out with over 75 attendees booked

SOLD OUT!

Thankyou to our speakers & all those who are supporting this event for what is going to be a very successful event

Any ideas for social events please pass on to any member of the committee !

Centenary Charity Dinner Dance

This years branch joint IAT / IOQ charity summer dinner dance is at a new venue at Southport on the 9th June. The Ramada Plaza hotel is a luxury 4-star hotel is set in the heart of the town's glamorous waterfront development.

We have had good early take-up but there are tables still available, if interested please contact Tony Sewell for more information (tony@ptsinternational.co.uk)

Golf Day

This years branch golf day will be held at Lancaster Golf Club on the 29th June (more details to follow)

Social Events

The committee are keen to re-instate some of our social events this year & if we get enough interest are considering a summer social event with a visit to M -sport at Cockermouth.

M-sport is the organization chosen by the Ford Motor Company to mastermind the assault on Ford's major Global Motorsport activity, the World Rally Championship. this magnificent 10 million pound development on behalf of the Ford World Rally Team & currently employs 116 people from design, engineering etc.
