| Denotation, Connotation, and Shades of Meaning Overview, TE p. T39 (also online at www.SadlierConnect.com) | Located in the Teacher’s Edition front matter and online, Denotation, Connotation, and Shades of Meaning defines terms used to distinguish between the dictionary meaning of a word and its connotation or tone—that is, the emotions or associations it normally arouses in people using, hearing, or reading it. Included are examples comparing the denotation and connotation of three words. |
| Word Study: Denotation and Connotation Review Units 1–3, pp. 47–48; Review Units 4–6, pp. 85–86; Review Units 7–9, pp. 123–124; Review Units 10–12, pp. 161–162; Review Units 13–15, pp. 199–200 | Every Word Study section of Vocabulary Workshop has two pages of instruction on and practice with the denotation and connotation of words. These lessons help students understand the difference between a word’s literal meaning and informal, implied meanings. They study examples of words with implied meanings—or connotations—that have positive, negative, or neutral implications. In Shades of Meaning, students write a plus sign next to words with a positive connotation; they write a minus sign by words with a negative connotation; and they put a zero if a word is neutral. In the Expressing the Connotation exercises, students read each sentence then consider context clues before selecting one of two vocabulary words that best expresses the desired connotation (positive, negative, or neutral). For Challenge: Using Connotation, the third set of exercises, students choose vocabulary words from the preceding Unit to replace the highlighted words in the exercise sentences. Finally, they explain how the connotation of the replacement word changes the tone of the sentence. |

Students examine each sentence then select one of five lettered responses that identifies the error—or “no error.” In Improving Sentences, students read the original sentence plus four alternatives before determining which phrasing produces the better sentence. For the English Test, students read a passage with sections that are underlined and numbered. In the exercises that follow, they mark the letter corresponding to the word or phrase that improves each numbered section—or select “no change” if they decide there is no problem with the original. |
