The Teacher's Edition includes a lesson plan with learning activities for three stages of instruction: TEACH, PRACTICE/APPLY, and FOLLOW-UP.

In Words in Context, children listen to or read a passage that incorporates six or seven Unit words. This format allows them to examine sentence-level context clues as well as clues from multiple sentences for help in determining the meaning of an unfamiliar word.

A different genre and theme is presented in each passage. After reading, children answer vocabulary-in-context and comprehension questions based on the passage.

For the Write Your Own activity at the end of the lesson, children choose one of the three or four Unit words in the adjacent box then use that word in writing an original sentence. The teacher can read the sentence to check that children understand how to use the vocabulary correctly.

TEACH

Ask children to suggest ways to figure out the meaning of a word they do not know in a sentence. Lead them to understand that they can sometimes use other words in the sentence as a clue to figure out the meaning. Sometimes, the clue is a group of words that gives the meaning of the unknown word.

Vocabulary for Comprehension: "Koko the Gorilla" (Midyear Review Units 1–6), pp. 74–75; "A Fun Hobby" (stamp collecting, Final Mastery Test Units 1–14), pp. 166–167

In Word Study: Context Clues, students use other words in a sentence to figure out the meaning of an unknown word.

For the first set of exercises, they underline the words that help them determine the meaning of the word in dark print.

For the second set, they circle the word that best completes the sentence. Next, they underline the word that helped them make their choice.

In Vocabulary for Comprehension, children read a multiple-paragraph reading selection that contains six taught words. Children examine sentence-level context clues as well as clues

Following the general instruction, the first set of exercises direct children to write the prefix needed to make a word that goes with the given meaning. They then write the whole word.

The second activity requires children to complete each of the five sentences by writing the correct word that is formed by combining the appropriate prefix and root word.

DESCRIPTION

Each Unit passage introduces the 10 words in context that children will learn in the Unit. When listening to or reading a passage, children are directed to pay close attention to the context of these highlighted Unit words. Photographs and illustrations provide additional clues. This will both improve their comprehension of the passage by helping them make real-life connections between the new words and their personal experience.

In addition to the three-part Introducing the Words lesson plan (PREPARING TO READ, DURING READING, and AFTER READING), the Teacher's Edition provides Background Information for each passage. Although some themes will be familiar to children, others will be new. Background Information helps children make connections to their own lives, to people, to places, and things from the world, and to information and details from familiar texts.

The Lion and the Mouse

One bright sunny day, Lion was asleep in the forest. Mouse didn't see Lion and ran right over his nose!

Lion grabbed Mouse and roared, "I warn you. Don't ever do that again!"

On the Completing the Sentence page, children use context clues to choose the word that best completes each sentence. These sentences reflect a familiar theme that helps children make real-life connections to the words they are studying.

The Teacher's Edition includes a lesson plan with learning activities for three stages of instruction: TEACH, PRACTICE/APPLY, and FOLLOW-UP. There is also a reference to an online activity located at vocabularyworkshop.com.

In Words in Context, children listen to or read a passage that presents six or seven Unit words in a grade-appropriate context—in literature or informational text—that young learners can relate to. A different genre and theme is presented in each passage. After reading, children answer vocabulary-in-context and comprehension questions based on the passage.

For the Write Your Own activity at the end of the lesson, children choose one of the three or four Unit words in the adjacent box then use that word in writing an original sentence. The teacher can read the sentence to check that children understand how to use the vocabulary correctly.

The Words in Context lesson plan consists of three parts: TEACH, PRACTICE/APPLY, and FOLLOW-UP. The reference to online resources describes the iWords Audio Program and the Audio Glossary, which includes Unit words and example sentences.

Throughout the program students build and use vocabulary knowledge through a variety of increasingly sophisticated language arts activities. These activities include gleaning extended and short reading selections for context clues that unlock the meaning of unfamiliar words and phrases, as well as improve comprehension. Students practice regularly selecting and using the right words in their speaking and writing. Word-relationship and word-building lessons covering synonyms, antonyms, roots, and shades of meaning likewise help equip students for independent development of academic and domain-specific words and phrases.

FOLLOW-UP

- Oral Language To enhance vocabulary instruction, read aloud to children as often as possible. Oral reading is critical for developing children's listening and speaking vocabularies. Select texts that contain concepts related to the words children are learning. Read Alouds are most effective when you discuss the selection before, during, and after reading.

- ELL Help children relate new concepts and idiomatic expressions to prior experiences and knowledge. Explain idioms when necessary.

Words in Context

PRACTICE/APPLY

- Read aloud the passage on the Words in Context page. Discuss the genre and its characteristics, as well as the theme, or main idea. Develop oral language and listening skills by having children talk about the theme. For example, in Unit 2, generate a discussion about races or other community activities.
