

LTPAC solutions built on reliable everyday service

Execute your technology strategies without overtaxing your existing resources. You define the scope of your technology implementation requirements and vcpi maintains the methodologies that manage and deliver the projects, from beginning to end.

Our Project Managers are Project Management Professionals (PMP) as certified through the Project Management Institute (PMI), recognized globally for establishing standards and credentials for project management. They use industry best practices in the area of project scope, time, HR, communications, risk and procurement management to deliver quality projects, on time and within budget.

You'll receive:

- An experienced, technically skilled Project Manager to serve as project meeting facilitator
- A detailed project schedule that includes a comprehensive list of all the deliverables required to complete the project
- Timely communication of project status, issues and risks to oversee and measure project performance and avoid potential problems
